City House

Protecting Youth. Empowering Change. Transforming Lives.

Whether together or apart, we care more than ever.

As the coronavirus pandemic unfolds, we are truly humbled by the outpouring of inquiries from our supporters, friends & followers. To bring you up to date, our children's emergency shelter, My Friend's House, along with the three transitional living homes & the youth center is following the strictest policies & recommendations of the CDC and our government officials.

- Staff and residents are being temperature checked daily and we are in constant contact with our partners at Children's Medical Center.
- We continue to provide a nurturing environment and remain extremely responsive to the unique needs of each and every child & young person in our care.
- For the concern and safety of our precious volunteers, we have suspended all volunteer activity.
- Only essential staff caring for clients.
- All other staff remain highly engaged while working remotely.

Our Most Dire Needs

MEALS

For the shelter, transitional living homes & youth resource center

The demand for meals has increased significantly during the past week as our children, youth and young adults are remaining in the shelter and transitional living homes due to school closings and job losses. Meals from a licensed food kitchen or gift cards to Uber Eats or Grub Hub can be sent electronically to our Director of Volunteers, Lisa Rodgers, at lrodgers@cityhouse.org. We also need

- Motel rooms for homeless young people still on the streets or for any young adult in our program that may become ill.
- Medicine along with health & wellness products
- Disinfectant (Sprays, wipes, liquids)
- Housekeeping Essentials
- Hand Soap
- Laundry Detergent
- Amazon (Amazon Smile)
- Target Gift Cards

Our needs are no different than any family's need right now.

We know that we have an uncharted road ahead, and that supplies will likely dwindle or run out soon. If you are able to help with a gift of any amount, your generosity will be greatly appreciated.

Item donations and any gift by check can be shipped/sent to:
